

New ConstructionPlanning*Determining New Construction

New construction shall be determined by increases in student enrollment changing educational programs, the condition of existing facilities, and limitations of current and projected budgets.

The Board of Education shall determine the extent of all new construction based upon reports and recommendations from and through the Superintendent of Schools.

New construction is defined to include major repair and replacement of all building items to the minimum extent of maintenance in the condition of original construction or as re-designed. It is further defined to include needed alterations and additions to suit news progress.

All building modifications or improvements shall be approved by the Board of Education.

Policy Approved: September 23, 1987

Policy Revised: November 28, 2016